A WHOPPING BIG VICTORY FOR THE NEWS

Wins Out In Court and Council and Is Awarded 1917 Contract

At the meeting of the city council last night the members were all present. Under the head of unfinished business the matter of the awarding of the contract for the official advertising for the current year and the designation of an official newspaper therefor was acted upon.

The Superior C ourt judgment was entered of record yesterday afternoon in favor of the News and holding it to be a legal newspaper of general circulation. This judgment discharged the temporary injunction issued against the city council at the instance of the Record-Herald, and the council thereupon proceeded upon motion of Councilman Ogborn, seconded by Councilman Long, to award the contract to the lowest bidder, this being amended by Councilman Lane to be the Richmond News. The motion was unanimously carried and the mayor and clerk were authorized to sign a contract accordingly.

OTHER COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

W. A. Morehead filed a protest against retail liquor dealers in Richmond in general. The same was placed on file.

The Merchants' Association tendered an invitation to the council to attend and partake of a banquet to be given by the association at Pulse hall on the 23rd, which invitation was accepted.

Communications were received from Washington from Senators Phelan and Congressman Curry in reply to the council's request that they do all in their power to have Col. Thos. Rees retained here by the naval department. They stated that this would be impossible under naval rules but that the new man to take his place, now on the way from the Philippines, would be found very acceptable.

An eloquent tribute to William A. Bissell, deceased, was submitted by A. S. Macdonald. It was accepted and filed.

Two more jitney permits were asked for, one to ply between Richmond and Albany. They were referred to the linense committee.

The ladies of the M. E. church, west side, asked permission to conduct a lunch room near the Standard Oil works, at Prospect and Standard avenues. It was granted.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

January reports from the various officers were approved. Among them Mrs. C. S. Gibson, secretary for the social service bureau, reported 26 families aided, 98 persons benefited, work secured for 17, garments distributed 183, and $63.05 paid out for supplies.

Building Inspector Wierda reported that the value of buildings inspected was $27,445, value of new buildings for which permits were issued, $26,940.

Supt. of Streets Chapman reported a distribution of $1056.95 and specified a long list of improvements now going on.

D. W. Calfee for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals reported that he had responded to 66 calls, returned five lost children, destroyed five horses and inspected 238 animals.

MUCH BOOZE ORATORY.

The ordinance compelling all saloons to put in glass fronts came up on third reading. Attorney Windrem appeared for the saloon keepers and made a lengthy talk against it, stating that in his judgment the move was an immoral one in effect. Councilmen Gerlach, Ogborn and Long replied in favor of the glass fronts. Long said that only yesterday he had to get a drunken man out of a saloon for his wife, and if it had been glass she could have seen for herself. The ordinance passed third reading, Garrard, Picton and Hartnett voting no.

Councilman Picton moved an amendment to the ordinance allowing women to enter saloons upon any necessary occasion.

Gus Green, saloon man, spoke bitterly against the glass front proposition as being a hardship and too expensive.

Attorney Robinson made an impassioned appeal to the council against women being allowed to enter salooss upon any occasion, and he made a splendid talk, bitterly arraigning the lawlessness of saloon keepers.

Councilman Lane also spoke in favor of the glass front.

Upon vote upon the amendment to the ordinance, the same was referred to the city attorney for legal adjustment.

ROUTINE BUSINESS.

The protest on Richmond avenue assessment went over to the 13th, upon request of Superintendent of Streets Chapman and parties in interest.

San Pablo avenue bonds for improvement went over to the 13th, upon request of Attorney Kearny.

The Raven Improvement Co. asked 28 days' extension on Bay View tract sewer work. Referred to city attorney.

The mayor was instructed to appoint a committee of three to meet with committees of fraternal and other organizations to assist in the charity ball March 3.

STREET CARS SCOLDED.

The following resolution was offered by Councilman Ogborn and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it has come to the attention of this council that hte street cars operated by the S. F.-Oakland Terminal Railway Co. are frequently in an exceedingly uncleanly condition, and whereas, the uncleanly condition of said cars is a source of considerable annoyance, discomfort and inconvenience to the patrons of said company, and whereas, said conditions are also unsanitary and a menace to the public health and welfare; now therefore, be it resolved by the council of the city of Richmond, that the said uncleanly condition of the street cars operated within this city is entirely unnecessary, and unbearable, and must immediately be abated, and be it further resolved, that the health officer be and is hereby ordered to see that all street cars operated in the city of Richmond be kept in a cleanly and sanitary condition.

PORT COSTA LABORER MEETS SINGULAR DEATH

Harry O. Stone, a laborer from Port Costa, met death in rather a singular manner at Oklnad Sunday evening.

Stone happened to be in the Franco-American saloon at Oakland when it was held up by three masked highwaymen armed with revolvers.

At the command of "hands up" Isador Lor, a hotel waiter, who thought it was a joke, jumped playfully at the bandits, and was shot dead. The bandits then backed out while the other occupants of the saloon pursued. The pursuers were hit over the head with revolvers and badly cut. Stone was struck by an auto in which Rene Haunt pursued the fleeing bandits, sustaining a fractured skull, from which he died last night in an Oakland hospital.

TWICE WIDOWED BY EXPLOSIONS.

A sad feature of the nitric acid explosion which killed two men and injured two others at Giant Saturday night is that Mrs. Skalberg has been twice left a widow by explosions. The first was in Denver eight years ago, when her first husband, a brother of the man who was killed Saturday, met death in a powder explosion. The funeral of Nels Skalberg will be held today from the undertaking parlors of Bert Curry, and that of Hall from the Smallwood undertaking parlors.

An inquest will be held by Coroner Abbott, but the date has not yet been set.

GERMANY WOULD AVOID WAR WITH U. S.

Wilson Still Hopeful But Preparing for War if It Comes.

London, February 5---The following dispatch was received here today:

Negotiations are now in course of proceedure at Berlin among parties interested in regard to the question of how far additional concessions on the part of Germany are possible, in consideration of certain pressing economic requirements of some neutral States, without prejudcing the purposes sought by unlimited U-boat warfare.

WILSON STILL HOPEFUL

Washington, Feb'y. 5--With hope for peace, but ready to meet war if it must be, the President has made clear to all his officials that the course of of the United States, difficult as it is, must be entirely beyond criticism.

To that end, German rights and property in the U. S. must have the full protection of law, and the President wishes every American citizen to forbear any thought or act which might lead his country nearer to war.

GERMAN PRESS VIEWS.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 5.—No indication that Germany intends to modify or withhold her unlimited submarine policy was given in German newspaper comment received here today—the first editorial utterances received since America's break.

"Wilson's action is regrettable," declared the Cologne Gazette, "but we are firmly decided to apply our full means of bringing victory and peace. If President Wilson's declaration means war—we are not deterred."

NO STEP BACKWARD.

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—"There is no step backward," declared the Berlin Tageblatt today, quoting Foreign Secretary Zimmerman, in commenting on President Wilson's breaking of relations with Germany.

"President Wilson's decision is astonishing," declared Zimmerman in the Tageblatt's interview.

"The entente's refusal of our peace overtures left us no other step open, except unlimited submarine warfare in the fight for our existence against the entente's violations of international law. America denied us assistance. We made no conditional promises—much less promises—to avoid unlimited submarine warfare. We have broken no promises. We hope President Wilson will warn Americans from the blockade zone. "There is no step backward."

FORD OFFERS HIS PLANT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Henry Ford, peace advocate, today offered Secretary of the Navy Daniels the use of his big automobile factory at Detroit for government munitions work and agreed to operate it without profit to himself.

MILLIONS FOR SUBS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Representative Emerson of Ohio today introduced a resolution asking an appropriation of $50,000,000 for immediate construction of additional submarines.

TWO MORE SUNK.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—Four members of the crew of the British steamer Evestone were killed when that vessel was sunk today. Besides the Evestone, the Danish steamer Lars Kruse also fell victim to the German submarine warfare.

The Evestone is not listed in Lloyds'.

The Lars Kruse is a Danish steamer of 1460 tons, registered at Copenhagen.

MAY INVOLVE JAPAN.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The immigration bill, vetoed once by Cleveland, once by Taft and twice by President Wilson, today passed the Senate by the necessary margin to make it a law.

The House passed it Friday.

The bill contains the literacy test and the anti-alien clause to which Senator Reed of Missouri today declared Japan objected to. The law becomes effective May 1.

The vote was 62 to 19.

LOYAL RESIDENT GERMANS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Wadsworth today presented to the Senate a telegram from representatives of 500 German and Austro-Hungarian societies pledging the sworn loyalty to the United States of 100,000 members, and urging that all steps be taken to preserve peace.

ACT OF WAR?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Wilson's request that neutral countries break relations with Germany is practically an act of war against Germany, a leading neutral diplomat said today.

"You will probably never come to blows with Germany during the present war," he said, "but your request to other neutrals can hardly be considered an act of peace."

"When you ask other neutrals to break with Germany you are asking them to declare themselves enemies of Germany. That is not an act of peace."

NEWS TO WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The state department declared today it knew nothing of "negotiations proceeding for further concessions" in the U-boat blockade as reported by wireless to London.

RICHMOND HIGH LOSES CHAMPIONSHIP

In a spectacular, hard-fought contest upon a strange court, the R. H. S. basketball team lost the basketball championship of the C. A. C. A. A. L. to the Livermore high school five, by a score of 24 to 14.

Richmond can make no complaint against the playing of the Livermore boys, or against the way in which the game was refereed. The iprincipal factors which contributed to the defeat of the Richmond boys were: The bad condition of the floor, and the apparent lack of our usual amount of pep and fight, the latter probably being the main reason for the unfortunate result. The floor, however, which was evidently intended either for an ice rink, or a mirror, was also much to be blamed for the appearance of the score board, when the final whistle sounded.

The game took place in Sweeny's Opera House at Livermore Saturday night and after a few minutes' play the Richmond lads began to realize how exceedingly fortunate they were in having a gym with a floor, lighting conditions, and general playing possibilities such as are offered in our gymnasium.

FIFTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Narbett entertained a great many of their friends Saturday night at their home, the occasion being the celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. Bridal roses and carnations and an elegant wedding cake made by Mrs. Narbett graced the banquet table.

The evening was spent in playing whist, at which Mrs. W. W. Felch won first price. Second prize was won by Mrs. Otto Ludewig and third by Mrs. W. J. Caesar. J. O. Ford was the winner of the consolation prize.

MRS. PEARCY SURPRISED.

Mrs. A. R. Pearcy, 534 N. 18th street, was given a birthday surprise party Saturday evening by a number of her friends, who were entertained at whist. Music and refreshments were enjoyed by Mrs. J. E. Abbott, Mrs. L. Buttler, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Miss Edwards, Mrs. A. M. George, Mr. and Mrs. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Pearcy.

WAR QUESTION COMPLICATED.

In expressing opinions of the grave crisis brought about by this war situation, and the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany, probably to be followed with like action with Austria, the editor of the News expects to be in a minority, as he sometimes is, for the reason that he is not diplomatic, and don't care who knows it.

No matter what we are, there is one thing we surely are not, and that is diplomatic. We have never been able to see the difference yet between diplomacy and hypocricy, and if there is any one thing in this world we do despise more than another it is a hypocrite.

In the action on the part of Germany, declaring a ruthless and uncompromising submare warfare to the limit, and to the end, international law has unquestionably been ruptured, punctured and sandbagged. That much we will concede. That the action of President Wilson, who has no greater admirer than is this writer, in severing diplomatic relations, is undoubtedly in conformity with the usages, practices, agreements and ethics of international law, is also conceded.

Be it further admitted, before we go any further, that we have no more use for Prussian militarism than has the dove of peace itself, and that we believe it should be stamped out of Europe as a menace to the peace and progress of all the world. But, just the same, if we were in Germany's place right now, and under the same circumstances, we should do just what Germany has declared its intention of doing—international law or no international law, or any other old law.

Any time a declared enemy gets our wife and family in a position where they are liable to starve to death, and declares his intention to do so, right then and there is where that man has got to look out, for we will fight female wildcats, red-eyed rhinoceroses or the devil himself, and fight with any old weapon and in any way or manner that comes handy, without respect to Marquis of Gooseberry rules, or any other rules, international or otherwise.

And that is exactly the position of Germany.

A nation is but the individual in the aggregate. The English blockade has shut off all source of food supply from Germany. It must either break up that blockade or slowly but surely starve. And there is only one way to do it, and that is to go to it and do it, by fair means or foul.

All this highbrow stuff about international law, America protecting its citizens no matter where they may be, and all that sort of thing, sounds very lovely, and patriotic, and lofty, and as a general rule it is all right, but this is one of those times when common horse sense beats all that a mile.

The thing for this country to do now is to declare an embargo on all shipments to the warring countries, of munitions, products or people, and command Americans to stay at home where they belong. Then there will be no American ships sunk and no American lives lost, and no necessity for war with Germany or anybody else.

And any tarnation idiot who gets on a ship and butts into that war zone has no sympathy coming, and if he gets his fool head shot off he will get no more than he deserves.

If the millionaire munitions manufacturers and the millionaire food trust magnates could be put on a ship and anchored out in the middle of the war zone as a target for anybody and everybody who wanted practice, all the danger of war between Germany and the United States would disappear like dew before a California sun, and come again no more. Unfortunately international law, aristocratic and royal ethics and a few miles of other red tape prevent this simple home remedy from being carried out.

With all this submarine warfare staring us in the face, it looks like Kansas would be a good state to emigrate to. There are no oceans there, and it is a dry state in other ways

Will Richmond put up a full county ticket next year, and go to the bat for it? That depends on how Martinez and other places line up in our new county fight. It's up to them.

Any drink containing ten per cent alcohol is just exactly ten per cent too strong.

Somebody has introduced a bill in the Legislature making it a punishable offense to sell cigarettes. What California needs more than anything else is a law prohibiting anybody qualifying for a legislative body who cannot also qualify to good sense.

Editor Ed Ebson of the Pinole Times does not seem to grasp the situation yet about this new county idea. Study it out, Brother, and get in line with progress. We want Pinole in the new county of Richmond, and are willing to take you and Ed Downer both into the fold—which is going some!

The Post points out that Pittsburg has expended close to a quarter of a million dollars in new buildings during the past two years. Pittsburg is a live town, having no worse drawback than allowing Joe Tracey and Bill Calahan to abide therein, which can possibly be condoned.

A PROCLAMATION
To The People of Richmond

By invitation, we have become members of The United Jewelers. This is an association of several hundred leading jewelers of the United States who do an annual, aggregate business of over twenty million dollars.

To gain membership, a jeweler must satisfy high and exacting standards. He must be the leading jeweler in his community and have the sort of reputation that commands and maintains public confidence.

Only one jeweler in any one town or city can gain membership in this association. Therefore, we consider our selection for this honor a great tribute to us.

The stores of he members of The United Jewelers are known as "The Hallmark Stores." They own and control productions from many factories, all of which is standardized in quality and price. Thus, the middlemen's profits and excessive costs of distribution are eliminated and we secure the lowest, direct-from-factory prices.

This means that you can now obtain either a lower price on usual quality; or, a higher quality at the usual quality price. As an easy means of identification, this merchandise is all stamped with the name "HALLMARK." This mark not only guarantees quality and price—it also guarantees absolute satisfaction to the purchaser.

We are now able to secure better and larger assortments; newer, fresher stocks, and up-to-the-minute styles and designs because of this direct-from-factory buying.

Through The United Jewelers' expert buyers in New York we can now procure anything to be found in any jewelry store in America. This provides our customers with the same merchandise, the same prices, the same quality of general service available in the largest stores in the largest cities.

So, whenever you need dependable jewelry store items, give our store your careful examination—its goods, its services; its safeguards against disappointment—its hospitalities. Prices, of course, are as usual, notably moderate.

We have illustrated catalogues, showing a very complete line of Hallmark goods. We will give you one free on request. Our stock is being gradually enlarged to include all the articles illustrated so that we can deliver almos any article in the catalogue.

The Daredevil

By Maria Thompson Daviess
Author of "The Melting of Molly"

Copyright, 1916, by the Reilly & Britton Co.

"All of us—every blamed son of a gun of us."

"Oh, I comprehend now that it is your wish that she love only you, Mr. Clendenning, and are sad that she does not," I said as I looked at him with much sympathy.

"That is about it, prince, but don't say I said so. Everybody chases Susan. She even wins an occasional ice cream smile from his excellency. I bet she'd go up against that august iceberg itself in a tryout for a 'First Lady of the State' badge if Mrs. Pat Whitworth hadn't got the whole woman bunch to believe she has a corner on his ice. Mrs. Pat is some little cornerer, believe me."

"Oh, I did like that Madam Whitworth, and I hope that it will be my pleasure to see her again soon," I said with an ice in my voice as I caught my breath while Mr. Buzz Clendenning drove between two cars and a wagon with not so much as an inch to spare on all three sides of the car. It is as I like to drive when at the wheel, but sitting beside another—

"You'll see her at the governor's dinner for you Tuesday, if not sooner, and just watch her and the general war dance with each other. He opens his eyes when Mrs. Pat attacks, and he imagines he is the whole Harpeth valley militia defending his excellency of Iceland from her wiles. Just watch him!" And this time it was three wagons that we slid between and beyond.

"Here we are at the general's, and I can smell Kizzie's cream gravy with my mind's nose. I understand that your father was the last Henry Carruthers of five born up in the old mahogany bedstead that the general inhabits between the hours of 1 and 5 a. m. Some shack, this of the general's, isn't it. Nothing finer in the state." And as he spoke that Mr. Buzz Clendenning stopped the car before the home of my uncle, the General Robert, and we alighted from it together.

I do not know how it is that I can put into words the beautiful feeling that rose from the inwardness of me as I stood in front of the home of my fathers in this faraway America. The entire city of Hayesville is a city of old homes I had noticed as I drove in the gray car so rapidly along with Mr. Buzz Clendenning while he was speaking to me, but no house had been so beautiful as was this one. It was old, with almost the vine covered age of the Chateau de Grez, but instead of being of graystone it was of a red brick that was as warm as the embers of an oak fire with the film of ashes crusting upon it. Thus it seemed to be both red and gray beneath the vines that were casting delicate green traceries over its walls. Great white pillars were to the front of it, like at the mansion of the gouverneur, and many wide windows and doors opened out from it. Two old oak trees which give to it the name of Twin Oaks stood at each side of the old brick walk that led from the tall gate, and as I walked under them I felt that I had from a cruel world come home.

CHAPTER VI.

The Girl Bunch.

AND if I felt in that manner as I entered the house I felt it to a still greater degree when I was welcomed by that most lovely old black slave woman of the high temper and good cookery. She opened the door for us herself, though a nice boy the color of a chocolate bonbon stood in waiting to perform that office. She had a spoon in her hand, and upon her head was a spotless white turban, as also was an apron of an equal spotlessness tied around her very large waist.

"You, Mas' Robert, you done come home from the heathen land to keep my food waiting jest like yo' father did from the minute I ontied him from my apron string. Come right into the dining room 'fore my gravy curdles and the liver wing I done saved for you gits too brown in the skillet," was all of the introduction or greeting that she gave to me as she waddled along behind Mr. Buzz Clendenning and myself, driving us down the hall and into the dining room.

"Gee, I hope Kizzie killed by the half dozen last night. If there aren't three chickens apiece you'll be hungry, L'Aiglon," said Mr. Buzz Clendenning, with a laugh, as he seated himself beside me and unfolded his napkin.

"I wish that you might call me Robert, Mr. Clendenning," I said, with a great friendliness, as we finished the nice lunch.

"Sure, Bobbie, and you'll forget that I wouldn't let you kiss me, won't you?" he answered as he drew back from the table and lit a cigarette after passing me the case. "Everybody calls me Buzz the Bumble Bee because of a historic encounter of mine with a whole nest of bumblebees right out here in the general's garden. It is a title of heroism, and I'd like to have you use it as if we'd been kids together, as we were slated to have been. Say, let's go call on Sue, and you can get a nice little initiation into the girl bunch before the general stops you by locking you away from them."

"I go," I made answer with a great pleasure.

Then we descended to the gray car of much speed and did use that speed in turning many streets until we came to another very fine old house, where, I was informed by my Mr. Buzz Clendenning, resides that Mlle. Susan of so much loveliness.

And it is of a truth that I discovered that loveliness to be as great as was told to me by her true lover. When I raised my head from the kiss of presentation I gave to her hand I looked into very deep and very wonderful girl eyes that had in their depths tears that were for a sympathy for me, I knew. My heart of an exile beat very high in my own girl's breast that ached for the refuge of her woman's arms, and I must have partly betrayed my yearning to her, for I saw an expression of confused question come into her eyes that looked into mine; then the beautiful thing that had come into my Mr. Buzz Clendenning's eyes for me came also into hers in place of the question. I saw then in those eyes a sister born to the boy Robert Carruthers of a great French strangeness.

"I've been thinking about you all morning, Mr. Carruthers, and hoping Buzz would bring you with him to see me first of all. I wanted to be the first one of the girls to say, 'Welcome home' to you." And as she spoke those words of much tenderness I again bent over her hand in salutation, because I could give forth no words from my throat.

"You, Mas' Robert, you done come home!"

The News feels pretty fine this morning, thank you! We won out in the court, won out in the city council and landed the city advertising contract that has comprised the meal ticket for the Record-Herald for years past. OAKLAND C. OF C. LOCAL CHAMBER GUESTS

About 150 members of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will invade Richmond next Friday night to see what sort of hospitality we can dish up in this man's town. The local chamber will give them an entertainment and feed at the Richmond club as a sort of return entertainment for the one the local folks enjoyed at Oakland some weeks ago.

The affair will take the form of a smoker, and a committee is preparing a program of entertainment for the edification of the distinguished guests from our sister city. A smoker is scheduled, and there is quite likely to be something eatable in sgiht, and possibly something to drink—nothing heavy, you know.

The Oakland male quartet is down for a few numbers. which fact ought to help attract a large crowd, as this is an especially capable quartet.

The Richmond Industrial Commission will be represented also. A large attendance is desired and everybody is invited.

NAVAL BASE REPORT

The report upon the naval base investigation seems to be a very illusive affair. It bobs up almost daily in one form or another, and at various times nearly every candidate for naval base honors has been "favorably mentioned."

In due time an official report will be issued, and then we can tell just exactly which place will be chosen.

The chances are that it will be some time before anybody knows.

The indications are that the government will be some time coming to a definite conclusion. The government officials have never known to take any less time arriving at a result than the law allows.

The latest information is that a report has been filed and that it will be given out when printed. The report is more than likely a resume of the work already done by the naval board.

POLICE GRABBED HIM.

The police found John Barrett, a cripple, peddling lottery tickets. About the only thing the tickets seem to be good for was admission to the city bastile. Consequenely he was ushered in.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS RALLY DAY.

The Royal Neighbors have scheduled a rally day for the 26th, when they expect every member to be present and answer her name when the roll is called. There will be a whist party on the 12th. The committee consists of Mesdames Rosier, Anthes, Fraga, Lee and Forbes.

"RIVER OF ROMANCE" AT THE RICHMOND

The Richmond theater hung out the S. R. O. sign last light for "The thing more than a love story. It is River of Romance." This is something more than a love story. It is as full of action as an office seeker after a sinecure, and has to do with autos, motor boats islands, burglars, pursuits and all kinds of excitement. It is about a girl with a love for adventure and a penchant for knowing all about motors, and a young heir who is making his own living rather than live off his dad.

Frak McIntyre, one of the foremost comedians on the stage, makes his motion picture debut in the Famous Players adaptation of his best known success, "The Traveling Salesman," in which he toured the country for three seasons. "The Traveling Salesman" is the Paramount Picture at the Richmond Wednesday and Thursday. It is a remarkable mixture of comedy and drama, in which this jovial comedian is thoroughly at home. The story deals with a traveling man who finds hmself n a little town on Christmas day and settles down resignedly to have the most awful time of his life. But before he has been in the place ten minutes things begin to happen to him. The action becomes fast and furious, with the drummer falling in love with the girl and battling for her with all his heart and soul.

LADIES' AID TEA.

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church will give a 10-cent tea tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Miss M. P. Parker of Salem, Mass., will deliver an address on hygiene. All are invited.

Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy because of very much lower prices offered by the English bidders.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515,000. Up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although we have expended, in wages, materials, etc., on these orders $522,881, and we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition, a literal interpretation of the contract might make us liable for penalties amounting to $678,016.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

A surprise was given Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Fred Snabey, 14 Nicholl avenue, for his son Jack. There were six couple present. Miss Mildred Stone of Oakland entertained with piano solos, and Miss Mildred McCreagh of San Francisco also contributed to the entertainment. There was a nice little spread and the young people enjoyed dancing the balance of the evening.

AT THE POINT THEATER.

Fannie Ward, the distinguished star of the Lasky company, who recently created such a furore by her splendid performance in the Lasky production of Hector Turnbull's gripping story, "The Cheat," will be seen at the Point theater today in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "For the Defense," a daring detective story by the same author. In "For the Defense" Miss Warr is seen as Fidele, a little French novice from from the convent. How she witnesses a murder and later is able to secure a confession from the assassin and free the man she loves, makes a photodrama of unusual merit.
